built in Beverly Hills at 436 N. Bedford drive, might furnish a permanent answer to the parking problem of Torrance or any congested area, it was said.
"If you can park as many cars in one building as you can on all the streets of the area, it is worth looking into," said one business man when his attention was called to the structure.
Austian said that complete construction of the entire project would take 2 1/2 months from the starting date.
The structure is fabricated of light gauge steel designed on the modular system. It consists of a number of steel docks or parking lots super-imposed one above the other on standard steel columns. A special prefabricated ramp is used to park on the upper decks and deliver cars to the ground floor.

with a sharp heavy instrument. He was found lying face downward by a passer-by Gerald Tuller, of 10502 Chapman avenue Garden Grove.
WALLET TAKEN
Brown, who became mayor of the beach city early last month, had been relieved of his wallet containing an undetermined amount of cash and identity papers. His councilman's badge was found nearby.
An apparent attempt to take his car had been made, since a misfit key was jammed into the ignition switch.
Attendants at the hospital said that Brown is to go home later this week.
Brown, who had been an honored guest at an American Legion gathering in Redondo Beach several hours before the attack, suffered a severe gash on the back of his head, according to Officers Merwyn Porter and Bruce Gooler.

The Board has adopted a policy of meeting for lunch on the first Wednesday of the month, and then giving part of the remainder of the day to membership activity, according to Selover.
250 MEMBERSHIP
Membership of the Council is approaching the 250 mark, he said. The group now is representing members in dealing with a dozen unions on a score of contracts, according to Selover. Its activities on behalf of members so far in 1951 have involved nearly 2000 calls on problems of more than 190 of the members of the Council, he declared.

work in its shipyards during the fiscal year and anticipates a vast increase in work output at the yards.
NO BREAKDOWN
There was no immediate breakdown on the amount of money the Navy will spend for all activities at the Terminal Island yard this year and the figure quoted for maintenance will be used entirely to keep the yard in operation at its maximum efficiency.
Admiral Wallin also disclosed that the Navy plans to arm one-third of its regular military Sea Transport Service vessels during the fiscal year at an estimated cost of $7,530,000.
He emphasized that this work will be done in private shipyards on a contractual basis.
He added that an estimated 25 cargo vessels and tankers thus would be armed.

perity Cleaners, Inc., commenting on the appellate court's favorable ruling, stated:
"I do not believe it constitutional to force the public to pay more than a good job is worth. I could have operated at the higher price and made more money, but the public is entitled to a break too. That is why I have been fighting it out in the courts for the past couple of years."

An interesting sidelight in the case was the legal duel between two modern Portias, each side of this important lawsuit having been represented by an outstanding woman lawyer.
COURT'S OPINION
The Opinion of the Court, invalidating the law, follows:
"Because the minimum price-fixing section of the Dry Cleaners Act was not inserted for the general welfare and does not contemplate that the board should consider the quality of service, the location of the shop, the rental it pays, the economic status of its patrons or its overhead expenses, but because it places all potential customers in the same category and makes no provision for the man of meagre income to obtain dry cleaning service for a reasonable charge, it is of no benefit to the public and its enactment was a detriment."

Vote by People

The Council has such a deaf ear to the opposition at this time."
Attorney Isen said that he is preparing the referendum petitions, and that all he awaits is the official action of the Council ordering the meters to complete the forms and put them on the street.
By referendum action, the City Council will be required to call an election to give the people a chance to vote on the parking meters.
RECALL HINTED
Circulators will be on the street as soon as the referendum action is made necessary and possible by official action of the Council, he pointed out.
Separate and independent of the parking meter issue was the renewed talk of recall of the "ruling four" on the Council for their failure to adhere to the will of the people as expressed on several important issues including the parking meter deal, the plans to adopt a $9.00-a-year garbage collection tax to finance a "park and recreation" program, failure to close down the city dump as demanded by nearby residents, and failure to operate the Torrance Municipal Bus Lines in a business-like manner for the convenience of patrons.
Meanwhile, the Retail Merchants' Division of Torrance Chamber of Commerce, met on Tuesday to discuss the parking meter plan, and appointed a committee to meet with the City Council on the subject.

CONSOLIDATION
The law firm of O'Melveny and Myers, retained to prepare the bond issue program, is studying whether or not the consolidation of the three municipal water districts can be placed on the same ballot as the bond issue.
If this is possible, the city of Torrance will vote on the bond issue for a water development program in October. If not, there is a question as to the ability to float the issue at all.
If the three districts, Municipal Improvement District No. 1 (Central Torrance), Municipal Water District No. 1, (Southwestern Torrance), and Municipal Water District No. 2 (North Torrance) are combined, the bond issue will be floated over the whole area, and all districts will benefit.

The new officers of the post will be presented with a controversial resolution by a member of the post, in which the annexation of Alondra Park is advocated, at their first meeting on Monday, August 21st.

PINEAPPLE AND STRAWBERRY JAM
4 cups prepared fruit
7 cups sugar
1/2 bottle fruit pectin
To prepare fruit, Pare 1 fully ripe pineapple. Grind very fine. Crush 1 quart fully ripe strawberries. Combine fruits. Measure 4 cups into large saucepan.
To make jam, Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for 1 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once. Makes about 10 six-ounce glasses.

NO SOULTION
The merchants are taking the attitude that the meters will not solve the parking problem, it was said.
Since the city had a big surplus from 1950-51 it should not be necessary to levy a parking "tax" on motorists to buy off-street parking lots.
The idea that the taxpayers of Torrance would not tolerate buying property out of surplus funds has been scoffed at by opponents of the meters. "If we are paying taxes anyway, why not use the surplus we accumulate?" one resident asked. "Why should we force motorists to pay another tax to park at our curbs?"
A merchant declared that parking meters in Torrance will do exactly what they have done in other cities of widespread area. They have been responsible for the establishment of shopping centers in outlying areas, away from the central district and parking meters.
"If you want to sign the death warrant of downtown Torrance shopping district, adopt the parking meter ordinance," said one business man.
